Summary

As part of their commitment to social engagement and learning, NSS Volunteers and students from the Department of Psychology of Marudhar Kesari Jain College for Women visited the Exhibition on the Life History of Mahatma Gandhi, organized at the Mahatma Gandhi Old Age Home. The event featured an inspiring Tamil speech on the life and values of Mahatma Gandhi delivered by Ms. Pallavi, a student of II M.Sc. Physics. In addition, Ms. Khizra Kounnain of II B.Sc. Biotechnology and Ms. Sakthi Priya of III B.Sc. Biotechnology delivered thoughtful English speeches, highlighting Gandhiji's ideals and his role in India's freedom movement.

The students also spent quality time with the elderly residents of the home, engaging in meaningful conversations and showing compassion and respect, thereby embodying Gandhian values of service and kindness. Nearly 50 students actively participated in the program, gaining insight into history while also practicing empathy and social responsibility. In recognition of its unwavering commitment to community outreach and social service, Marudhar Kesari Jain College for Women was honored with an appreciation certificate and award by the Indian Red Cross Society.

Outcome of the Programme

- Students gained deeper understanding and appreciation of Mahatma Gandhi's life and philosophy.
- The visit fostered a sense of social responsibility and emotional intelligence among the students.
- Positive engagement with the elderly residents strengthened the community bond and promoted respect for the elderly.
