Summary

The PG & Research Department of English, Business Administration and Tamil of Marudhar Kesari Jain College for Women (Autonomous), Vaniyambadi organized Day 7 – Navratri kolu celebrated in holistic dimension of Power of shakthi or the creative energy which is understood as feminine at basic level, the nine days of this Hindu festival turn into social jamnoree for women, where it is marked as kolu function. We celebrated Navratri by worshipping Durga, Saraswati and Lakshmi through this function. Students decorated kolu in 9 steps. The stairs are adorned in miniature dolls of God and Goddesses which are acquire by the devotees as heirlooms from fore fathers. Along with academics, special focus to the students by inculcating value based Life through tradition. Students participated with sense of bhakti, joy and with a sense of fellowship with others. The pooja started with slogans of Lord Ganesh. Students delivered slogans and song the devotional songs. Finally we distributed the prasadam for all the students and faculties everyone enjoyed functions with joy and happiness in traditional, grooming.

Outcome of the Navratri Kolu Celebration

1. Kolu promotes the preservation of traditional art forms, mythology, and stories. It serves as an opportunity to educate younger generations about customs and religious significance.

2. The practice strengthens community ties as families visit each other's homes to admire the displays, share prasadam (offerings), and engage in festive conversation.
3. Creating the kolu allows participants to showcase their creativity in arranging themes, decorations, and storytelling through dolls and figurines.
4. It provides an avenue for devotion and prayer, with each step symbolizing the progression of spiritual evolution toward enlightenment.
5. The event fosters a sense of joy, celebration and unity among family and friends, creating memories and spreading happiness during the festival.
